Leadership
Easy going
Humorous
Creative
Sales and marketing from experience
Understanding of people; good judge of character
Very good at flying by the seat of my pants when needed
Above and beyond typical productivity levels in times of stress
Willingness to step out of the box

Ryan's weaknesses:

Getting through initial kinetic friction; waking up... etc
Inability to remember minute general things; location of my wallet
Just having one more; cookie, turn... etc
Love having pictures, hate carrying camera
Doing things someone else's way; if not optimal
Short attention span
Neat freak
Difficulty living in the moment

Ryan is suited to be an entrepreneur, take charge and make things happen. He would not be happy as an intrapreneur due to lack of personal benefit, control and overall constraints typically imposed.
